Those Who Made It Possible

HATS OFF TO RAMSAY

Since its first graduating class in 1933, Erskine Ramsay High School has ranked among the best secondary schools in the country, both in scholastic ranking and in every other phase of school activities. During our evaluation period this year we were again assured that despite our decrease in enrollment there has not been a corresponding decrease in quality of work. In the words of the evaluators, "Precious things come in small packages."

This year a fine spirit is apparent throughout the school. Pride in Ramsay--her past record and achievements--predominates the feeling of the faculty and the students. Our auditorium is one of the finest in the vicinity. Our graduates have made an admirable record in every field of endeavor. We, the graduating class of 1951, are proud to call Ramsay our Alma Mater and feel wholly justified in our theme--

"HATS OFF TO RAMSAY!"

WHY WE ARE PROUD TO BE AMERICANS

We are proud to be Americans now. There is not a one of us who does not feel pride in his American heritage. All of us, as young citizens of this country, are truly proud of our future in a democracy.

We are free to choose our own careers and to work at those occupations of our choice, for in America the worth of the individual is considered. We are neither restricted nor expected to select the occupations of our fathers unless we so desire.

In America we can walk down the street with our heads held high, for we have no fear of a government agent checking our movements.

On Sunday morning when the church bells of many denominations are resounding throughout our city we know that we are free to attend the church of our choice and to worship God as we please.

Our country is a land of plenty and a land of privileges. We feel sure that no other people in the world enjoy such abundance and have the advantages offered us, even though too often we do not show our gratitude.

Have you ever thought why we Americans can contradict someone in a political position, sit in a congregation of a church of our own choice or read a newspaper free to print the truth? Our forefathers a century and a half ago fought and died to gain such privileges and freedom for America.

Every time we see "Old Glory" waving triumphantly in the breeze, we realize as we grow older, that our pride in being Americans grows deeper and richer. Our magnificent flag symbolizes in each star and stripe not only the sacrifices of our forefathers and our present unity, but also our hope of a strong and lasting nation. May that pride which fills our hearts ever be seen in our faces. We are proud to be Americans!

SCHOLASTIC

An enrollment of 716 and a teaching staff of 47 compose Ramsay High School this year. Among them many students have distinguished themselves in various lines.

In the Alabama State Fair Ramsay garnered 11 first places and 7 seconds. For their history papers, Enta Weinstein, Dorah Sterne, and Betty French won awards. Tom Screven won two prizes, one for a chart and another for a map. Charlotte Chambers also was awarded second place for a map. Vernon Russell's poster, Pat Patterson's essay and Charlan Edmundson's short story copped prizes, as did Brook Paylor's hand made wool suit. Completing the list of individual winners are Mosely Meer, James Thacker, and Jerry Young who won mechanical drawing awards.

The school as a whole copped firsts for their monthly library bulletins and a scrapbook on travel. The HIGHLANDER placed for the fourth straight year, gaining second prize.

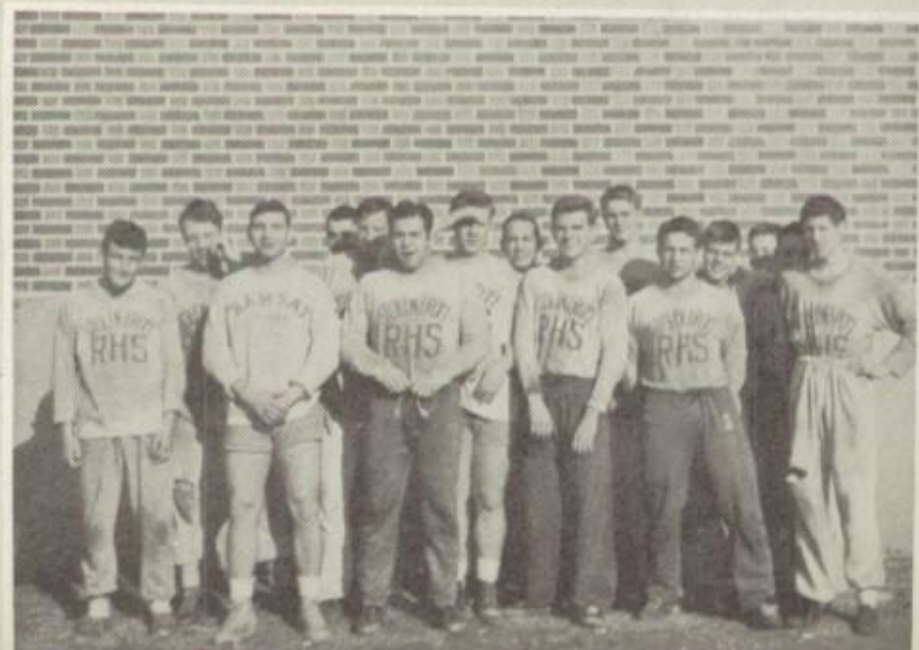

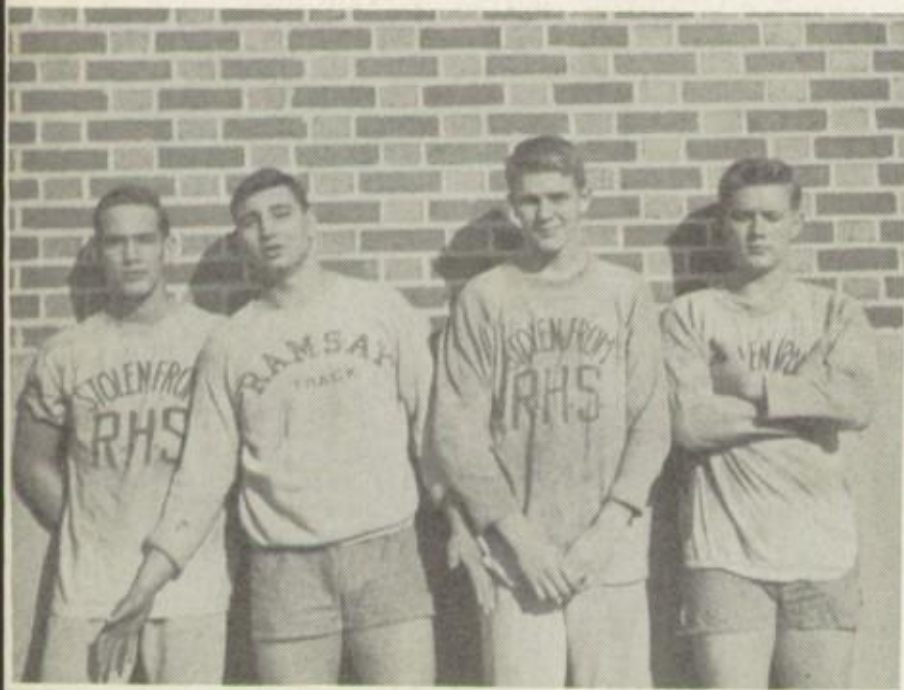

In national contests, Janis Clark won two gold medals in the Scholastic Art contest, and Joan Rittenbaum was given $25 for her essay on "What Industry Means to Alabama."

Ramsay's military prowess is something of which to boast. In the past two semesters, Major Harold Apolinsky, Major Max Rosenthal and Captain Louis Peeler have been members of the city regimental staff, and Colonel Sam Pointer now heads the staff. Pointer was awarded a plaque as the school's outstanding R. O. T. C. student.

The Rifle Team, composed of Max Rosenthal, Nat Barker, Don Carmichal, Calhoun Johnson, and Robert Parsons, won the Third Army Match in the city.

Within the school Anna French, Eleanor Bartlett and Ann Bartlett received awards from the National Honor Society for outstanding scholarship during their first semester. Hazel Cotton was presented the Exchange Club trophy as the outstanding eighth semester student, and Julia Bruce was voted Good Citizenship girl. Sam Pointer will represent Ramsay in the Laurie Battle Citizenship Tour.

The choice of Ramsay's R. O. T. C. Company M for first place in the city, with our own Company L as runner-up is a good example of the school's record--we stand second to none!

SPORTS

Excelling in spring athletics, Ramsay made a fine record in city sports. City championships in baseball, tennis, and track gave her the best overall record of all Big Five Schools.

In football, the varsity won only two games out of nine but Thomas Tharp was the city's leading scorer for the second straight year and represented Ramsay on the All-City, All-Star Football Team.

The baseball nine won the city title, losing only one game, and captured the county championship; but was eliminated in the district playoffs. John Baumgartner, star pitcher and outfielder, was offered professional baseball contracts from several major league clubs and finally signed one with the Detroit Club.

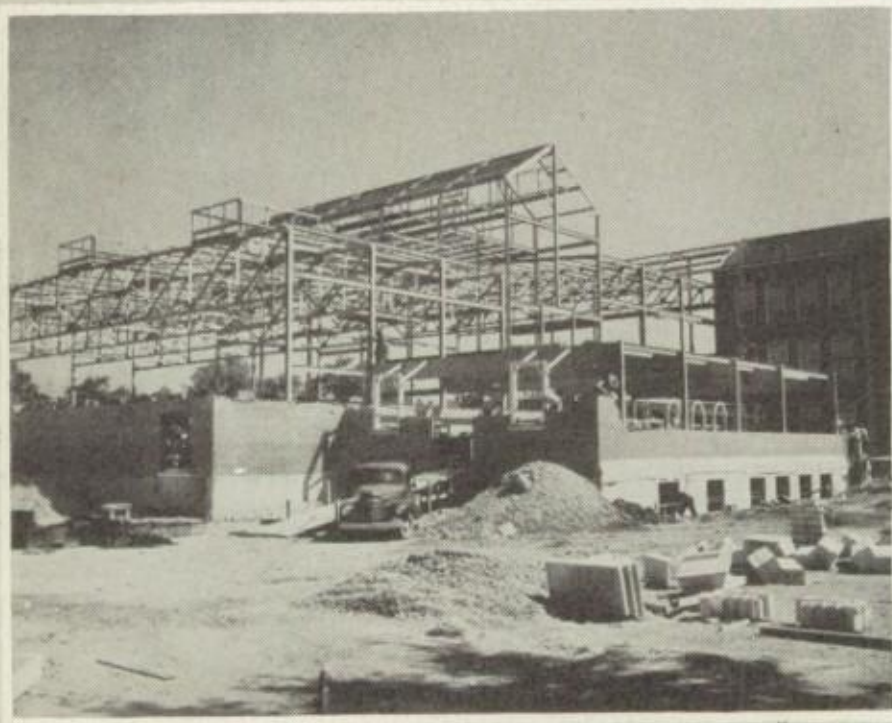

In tennis the blue and white of Ramsay also showed up to advantage, winning the city championship with but a single loss. Lettermen were Don Drennen, Charles Kahn, Fred Rock, Jimmy Sherman, Glenn Cobbs, Herbert Hahn, Henry Simpson, Robert Kenan, Sheldon Hackney, George Patterson, and Key Foster.

Winning the city championship and placing third in the state meet, our track team also showed well in competitive meets. Herbert Hahn, Thomas Tharpe, Wayne Goodson, Billy Whitten, and Jimmy Eubanks were chosen to represent Ramsay on the Alabama All-Star track team after their performance in the state meet.

Though the basketball team had a dismal season, Donald Long was the third top scorer in the Big Five and was selected for the second team of the All-City basketball team.

Despite the small enrollment at Ramsay, our athletic teams well represented our school, and the students showed good sportsmanship and backed the teams to the limit.
